Review Minutes September 2013

Council reviewed the September minutes.

2014 Awards Review Process

Council reviewed the 2014 awards review process, including the overview, scoring metric, and call for awards language. The conflict of interest policy was reviewed, and council members volunteered for specific achievement award categories for review. Materials for review will be sent individually to all council members via email, and will be due in January. The council will schedule a call for early January in order to make any last-minute decisions or changes to the recommendations. Council chair will then forward recommendations on to the SBM Awards Committee chair.

Update from Chair: Potential Collaboration with Anne Berman

The ISBM ETCD chair, Dr. Anne Berman, approached the SBM ETCD council to see if they would be interested in helping coordinate the creation of a MOOC (Massive Open Online Course) and help figure out a way to make it internationally available. Dr. Berman has piloted a few small international courses with positive feedback. Dr. Zarrett summarized her initial meeting with Anne, and asked council members if they knew of any models or had ideas that might help. Council members suggested reaching out to Jamie Bodenlos, who is involved with the ETCD Teaching Behavioral Medicine pre-conference course for 2014, and also suggested that staff research and review online visitors to the SBM online syllabi program. That may lead us toward finding SBM members that are actively teaching and creating lesson plans who would likely be a good fit for this effort.

Doodle Poll for Recurring Calls

Council discussed the change in Fall/Winter schedules, and especially the beginning of the academic year demands most members face. A new doodle poll was sent out to ensure we have the best recurring time selected for most Council Members.

Ongoing Updates

Council members please email staff with any links or resources that would be relevant to the areas of career/transition, mentoring, or past or future ETCD programming and its materials.
